01

Vitamin

This month, factories of Folic Acid have resumed production successively, so market supply has recovered, and transactions have become sluggish. The price of Folic Acid has been hovering at the bottom this year, and client's demand is not very strong, so the market is relatively stable. The current market price is around USD24.5/KG.

02

Amino Acids

According to the market news: On September 25, Heilongjiang Wanli Runda latest offer: 70% Lysine Sulfate USD 870/MT, 98.5% Lysine HCl USD 1400/MT. Currently, the prices of mainstream domestic factories are mainly stable, and factories mainly focus on delivering previous orders. The factory's delivery situation is needed to pay attention to.

03

API Aspirin

Aspirin, affected by the uprising of raw materials, involving phenol and acetic anhydride, has increased slightly, and there are more inquiries now. The current market quotation is around USD 2.9/KG. We will continue to follow price trends and market demand.

04

Food Additive

Affected by the recent market situations, the transaction of L-carnitine has increased, and the transaction price is around USD12/KG. Some domestic manufacturers have stopped quoting and are expected to resume after the Chinese National holiday. It is expected that prices will stabilize in future.
