The current market price of niacinamide/nicotinic acid is close to the bottom, some customers are more willing to make the order, and the cost of raw materials is still high, so suggest to continue to pay attention.

Amino Acid | Methionine

Recently, domestic methionine factory quotations have been weak and stable, market transactions are average, and end-users are relatively cautious in replenishing supplies. The market price of valine is expected to be weak in the later period, so we need to pay attention to the factory inventory situation.

API
