Vitamins

Vitamin A

Due to the BASF incident, vitamin A is in short supply and its price has risen significantly in the past two months. For Vitamin A palmitate 1.7 MIU, the current market price is around USD90/kg, the main manufacturers raised the price again recently, and the stock from the market is not much, we think the price will keep rising. As for vitamin A palmitate 250,000 IU, the current market price is USD25/kg. According to the current situation analysis, the price of vitamin A may continue to rise in the second half of the year.

Vitamin D3

Due to the shortage of upstream raw materials, all manufacturers stopped quoting for VD3 crystal 40MIU. In addition, due to the shutdown of major factories for maintenance in summer, the price of vitamin D3 has also been rising steadily. At present, the market price of VD3 100,000 is around USD13/kg, and the market price of VD3 1MIU is around USD85/KG. It is predicted that this product will continue to rise in the future.

Vitamin E 50% CWS /VE Oil 98%

In the past two months, the price of Vitamin E has risen sharply. Before the BASF accident, the price of VE had been rising steadily. After the BASF accident, the shipments of major manufacturers were limited, and the market was in short supply. The supply in the Chinese market was limited due to the maintenance of several major factories. The current market price of Vitamin E oil 98% is USD32-35/KG.
