VITAMIN

01

Major niacinamide producers have yet to release firm post-holiday quotations, with some production schedules extending into April–May. Channel inventories continue to decline, and transaction prices have risen to USD 5.86–6/KG. Supported by earlier raw material cost increases and tight lead times, bullish sentiment remains strong, with prices expected to stay firm in the near term.

AMINO ACID

02

According to XMYG threonine quotations increased by USD 40/MT this week, while other producers raised prices by USD 13-40/MT. Trading market levels are around USD950-990/MT. Downstream buyers remain cautious, with moderate transaction activity. Attention will focus on shipment progress in the coming weeks.

API

03

Amoxicillin prices remain firm due to upstream raw material costs, with some delivery schedules extending into April. Low-priced supplies are limited and inquiries remain active. Current mainstream prices stand at USD 22.12–22.77/KG, with a stable-to-firm outlook in the near term, pending changes in demand and supply conditions.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Sucralose transaction prices in the domestic market are currently around USD 12–12.36/KG. Order backlogs at major producers remain tight, and extended lead times may support further price increases.
