VITAMIN

01

According to market sources, since March 25, Heilongjiang NHU Biotechnology Co., Ltd. has raised Vitamin C quotations to USD 2.82-3.08/kg, while Northeast Pharm increased its market price to around USD 3/kg. Overall, the VC price level is moving upward, with increasing market attention.

AMINO ACID

02

Some tryptophan producers have suspended quotations and are prioritizing existing orders, leading to tight supply in the trading market. Downstream buyers remain cautious with restocking, and the market is expected to stay relatively firm in the short term.

API

03

- On March 25, Zhejiang Jiuzhou Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd. announced that its sulfadimethoxine API has obtained the CEP certificate issued by the European Directorate for the Quality of Medicines, enabling access to the EU and other CEP-recognizing markets, supporting its global expansion.
- For amoxicillin, prices remain stable at USD 23.2-24.4/kg, with firm quotations from major producers and slightly tight supply. The market is expected to remain stable in the short term.

FOOD ADDITIVE

04

Creatine monohydrate prices are expected to rise due to increasing raw material costs and market trends. Current quotations are around USD 3.21–3.46/kg, with delivery schedules extending to mid-to-late April, and further price increases cannot be ruled out.
