VITAMIN 01

NHU reported revenue of approximately USD 2.89 billion for the first three quarters of 2026, up 15.56% year on year, with net profit reaching USD 881 million, up 10.28%. However, both revenue and net profit declined quarter on quarter in Q3, mainly due to weaker vitamin market conditions following the price retreat in Vitamin A and E since May.

AMINO ACID 02

According to market sources, Evonik raised its solid Methionine quotation to USD 3.49/kg, effective October 29.

API 03

- Demand for Oxytetracycline HCl weakened in the previous period, with market transactions at approximately USD 12.20–12.87/kg. Prices are expected to remain stable to weak in the short term. Market participants will continue to monitor Q4 demand as well as producers' supply and delivery conditions.
- WuXi AppTec recently released its Q3 2026 financial report and raised its full-year guidance for the second time this year, following an earlier revision in its interim report. After increasing its projected year-on-year revenue growth range from 18%–22% to 35%–39% in August, the company further raised the forecast to 40%–42%. The updated guidance also indicates improvements in its expected operating revenue, capital expenditure, and free cash flow.

FOOD ADDITIVE 04

Helplifes signed an agreement to establish its next-generation precision probiotics and microbiome functional medicine headquarters in Wuxi High-Tech Zone. The project will leverage technology transfer from Jiangnan University and the company's portfolio of over 10,000 microbial strains and microencapsulation technologies. With four production lines planned across two phases, the project is expected to strengthen the region's special food pilot-scale development and industrialization capabilities.
